AWARENESS ON WOMEN AND CHILD ABUSE

Every child has the right to live free from violence, exploitation and abuse. Violence against children knows no boundaries. It happens in every country, and in the places children should be most protected – their homes, schools and online. It can be physical, emotional or sexual. And in most cases, children experience violence at the hands of the people they trust. Women are also vulnerable to abuse. Awareness programs on women and child abuse by chairperson of Child Welfare committee, Pondicherry was beneficial for all stakeholders.

Child abuse is one of those issues that's very difficult to talk about, because it is surrounded by guilt, shame and so on, but, us avoiding that issue doesn't help the kids in need, out there who need support.
