

Graduate attributes:

1. Students graduating in this degree must have thorough understanding of the fundamentals of biomedical sciences making them professionally competent.
2. They should have the appropriate skills of biomedical sciences so as to perform their duties in this area.
3. Engage in scientific inquiry and research, analyze the problems related to biomedical sciences to provide sustainable solutions in the area of healthcare.
4. Graduates are trained to seek solutions from other interdisciplinary sciences and demonstrate ability to work as a team.
5. They are trained to pick up leads and the possibility of their transition into entrepreneurs.
6. Graduates should have knowledge of patents, copyrights and various regulatory process to make their efforts a success.
7. Graduates in this discipline should also develop ethical awareness.
8. Graduates will generate and effectively communicate scientific knowledge to the society.